MICA SHELL GRAPHITE

Mica Shell is a 92cm wide decorative wallcovering inspired by a chemical reaction between quartz and granite. Available in 6 colours.

Description	The wallcovering collection Graphite comprises endless variations on mica, a mineral formed out of a chemical reaction between quartz and granite. Exposed to extreme heat, the mineral expands into pieces 2000% or even 3000% of their original size, in a spectrum of brilliant colours. The natural sparkle of the mineral pieces enhance the dark tones while conferring a mother-of-pearl glow to the lighter colours. Creating designs that concentrate on the inherent uniqueness of the mineral, Graphite is a collection that defies explanation.
