Description

Mirari Naxi features a delicate interplay of texture and light that evokes the traditional art of handcrafted paper. Its subtly layered surface creates depth and movement across the wall, adding visual interest while maintaining a soft and versatile appearance. Suitable for hospitality, workplace, healthcare, residential, and public environments, Mirari Naxi provides a textured backdrop that complements a wide range of interior styles.

Constructed as a printed wallcovering, Mirari Naxi is designed to combine visual appeal with practical performance. The surface is washable after installation, breathable, and light resistant, while water-soluble inks and a heavy metal-free printing process support healthier interior environments. Designed to install with minimal visible seams, Mirari Naxi delivers a durable, low-maintenance wallcovering solution for modern interiors.
